WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—The White House hummed today as final arrangements were made for President Hoover's battle-ship cruise of the Caribbean, upon which he will embark either Wednesday or Thursday. Secretary Lawrence Richey and Captain Russell Train, the naval aide scanned the accommodations aboard the U. S. S. Arizona to ascertain how many the party must be limited to, and Boris, the President's valet, was arranging a summer wardrobe for the ten day jaunt through Southern Seas.

Secretary of War May Go
As the trip of the Arizona, which has just been reconducted, as a "shake-down" cruise and the navy desires a full complement of man power to be aboard, reservations for guests, secret service men and newspaper men are to be limited. It was considered probable that Secretary of War Hurley, who has jurisdiction over Porto Rico, would go along as an observer. The machine swung sidewise and skidded down hill several feet. A car behind couldn't be stopped to avoid a bumping. No damage.

The jelly-like ice coating on Highland avenue this morning proved too much for one driver whose car got icy before a street car crowd of onlookers. The machine swung sidewise and skidded down hill several feet. A car behind couldn't be stopped to avoid a bumping. No damage.

Even though diggers have been busy at the county-operated coal strip out Croton way all winter long there still remains plenty for any wanting it. No exact estimate has been placed on what remains, but there's ton upon ton underground yet unmined.

MAN SOUGHT FOR BANK ROBBERY SHOTS SHERIFF ANOTHER MAN AND SELF

(International News Service)
MONTICELLO, Ind., Mar. 16.—Sheriff Ray M. Fisher's misplaced trust in a friend was held responsible today for an ambush in which a White Country farmer, faced arrest as a bank bandit suspect, killed Fisher, and then his own brother and himself.
Sheriff Fisher's chief deputy, K. E. Ireland, was wounded in the shooting affray.
After shooting the officers down the slayer, Scott Talbutt, 47, shot and killed his brother, William, 40, and then killed himself with a load of buckshot through the heart.
Believing Talbutt innocent of participation in the robbery of the State Bank at Battleground, Ind., last February 14, when $1,400 was taken, Sheriff Fisher delayed serving the warrant on his friend.

The sheriff and his deputy went unarmed to the Talbutt farm yesterday, thinking his friend would surrender peaceably. A blast of shotgun fire from the door of a corn crib met the two officers as they inquired for the elder Talbutt. Fisher was killed almost instantly and Ireland was wounded.
A posse surrounded the corn crib and found the bodies of the two brothers. Talbutt apparently had killed his brother and then turned the shotgun on himself.

Fisherman Held In Girl's Death, Probe Continues

Truck Owner Under Close Scrutiny Regarding Death Of Brooks Girl

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 16.—Arrested at Tecate, Mex., as a suspect in the murder of Virginia Brooks, 10-year-old school girl, Ture Wallin, 28, a fisherman, was held for questioning here today.
Police and deputy sheriffs hurried across the border to Tecate, 43 miles southeast of here, after Mexican authorities advised police that they had located Wallin.
They took him in custody and he is technically held for investigation by the United States immigration authorities. Shortly after his arrest a few weeks ago here on a charge of driving while intoxicated Wallin forfeited his bond and left for Mexico, according to police.

Examine Hair.
Wallin departed shortly after the Brooks girl vanished on her way to school.
Police officials today continued their examination of four human hairs found in a motor truck which is held by police as a possible important clue in tracing the girl's slayer.
Finger print experts are making microscopic analysis of the strands of hair to find if any of them compare with those found clutched in the hand of the Brooks child when her body was found last Tuesday.
The owner of the truck is under close scrutiny, police said.

Gordon Given Banking Post

Named By Governor Pinchot As Successor To Cameron

RECENTLY APPOINTED AS FIRST DEPUTY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 16.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today designated Dr. William D. Gordon, Drexel Park, to be secretary of banking. Gordon was named several weeks ago by the governor as first deputy in the department, succeeding James W. Taylor, Indiana.
Gordon succeeds Peter G. Cameron who resigned on February 28 because of his inability to agree on the policies of the present administration in the proper functioning of the department.

At the time of Gordon's appointment as first deputy it was predicted that he would soon succeed Cameron as head of the department.
Cameron's resignation was due largely to a disagreement with the governor regarding the policy to be followed toward the bankers Trust Company, Philadelphia, which the former had ordered closed in December. A. M. Greenfield, Philadelphia real estate operator, was a controlling factor in the affairs of the bank. Cameron refused to sanction opening of the bank so long as Greenfield remained in control.
At the same time he announced the Gordon appointment the governor issued a statement outlining his ideas on the conduct of the banking department. The statement asserted that the duty of the department is to act so as to prevent bank (Continued On Page Six)

Walker's Friends Plan Defense For Corrupt Charges

Mayor Walker's Supporters Plan Counter-Charge Against Organizations

KERRIGAN PLANS HEATED DEFENSE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—Mayor James J. Walker's friends and political allies, including Tammany Hall, rallied to his defense today against the "hue and cry" for a legislative investigation of the government of New York City.

They instituted a vigorous counter-attack against the civic and church organizations which for the past week or more have been clamoring for a sweeping inquiry into the alleged "corrupt" Walker administration.

"A plot against Mayor Walker," is the counter-charge of the mayor's defenders.

Charles F. Kerrigan, assistant to the mayor, who at the moment is the leading spokesman for the Walker administration, insists that the clamor against Mayor Walker was inspired by a desire on the part of influential persons to prevent the effective prosecution of officers and directors of the defunct Bank of United States.

Kerrigan declared today that he is willing to go before a grand jury with proofs of his charges. He said he was prepared to name persons of high position who, he asserted, "will stop at nothing" to prevent the truth concerning the recent closing of the Bank of United States, a $160,000,000 institution, from becoming known.

Joliet Prison Chaplain Quits

(International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., Mar. 16.—Investigation of Saturday's riotous outbreak in the mess hall at Joliet state penitentiary was punctuated by the resignation of the Rev. George Whitmeyer, prison chaplain.

The chaplain said his resignation was in protest of the slaying of three prisoners on the morning of February 22 when they ran into a machine gun trap while trying to escape. He termed the killing as "murder."

The clergyman said he was willing to testify before the legislative committee appointed to investigate the prison situation.
After surveying the old penitentiary where one prisoner was killed and three others were wounded in Saturday's rioting, participated in by 1,100 prisoners, the committee indicated that its probe would extend to the operation of the board of pardons and paroles and the Illinois parole law.

For the trees must have their dress, and the ladies too I guess, and to salesman all and sundry, all they answer then is yes. Send the gown up C. O. But not long after the order was placed the True-Fit store wrote the manufacturer not to make the shoes, that it could not take them. But by that time the manufacturer already had cut the leather for the uppers and refused to accept the countermand, but finished the shoes and tendered them to the True-Fit store. The store refused to accept them. There was an exchange of correspondence and then the manufacturer filed suit for the entire contract price.

Brownsville Fire Loss Is $75,000

Six Stores In Brownsville Damaged By Fire Today—Firemen Recalled To Blaze

(International News Service)
BROWNVILLE, Pa., Mar. 16.—Fire originating from a gas stove early today swept through six stores in the building owned by Samuel Leff of Pittsburgh with loss estimated at more than $75,000.

Firemen from four nearby communities responded to fight the blaze which, for a time, threatened to sweep through the entire downtown business section of the city.

The fire originated in Bud's Tailor Shop where a gas stove had been left burning throughout the night. Other stores that suffered from fire, smoke or the deluge of water that was poured on the burning structure were the Keystone Grocery, Woolworth's 5-and-10-cent store, Standard Drug Store, George's Shoe Shop and the Palace Shoe-Shining Parlor.

Firemen, after fighting the blaze for hours and finally quelling it, were again called out when a brisk wind whipped dying embers into open flame. The second blaze was put out within a half hour.

Judging by the way it is moved here and there, the line of least resistance must be the waist line.—The Ashland (Kentucky) Daily Independent.

STAR LORE

AMAZING DISCOVERY OF VELOCITY

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

A fact of the greatest astronomical interest has recently been established, viz., the actual discovery not only of the rotation of certain stars, but the velocity with which they rotate, and knowing their diameters, complete their rotations. This discovery is the result of observations made with the spectroscopic too technical to be introduced here. But the summer star Altair, in the constellation Aquila, is found to rotate with a velocity of 16 1/2 miles per second at its equator, and knowing its diameter, which is one and one-half times that of the sun, it finishes one rotation in seven hours, which is very rapid. The sun makes one rotation in four weeks.

MRS. R. E. HOFFMAN RECEIVES AT TEA

One of the most charming events of Saturday afternoon was the tea given in the parlor of the First Presbyterian church, with Mrs. R. E. Hoffman of Meshed, Persia as the hostess.

The church parlor had been transformed into a real Persian drawing room, with gorgeous oriental rugs placed upon the floor and colorful Persian drapes at the doors and hung about the room.

The low coffee tables were placed about the room and each centered with a hand made vase holding yellow tea roses; the tables were covered with oriental covers direct from the hands of Persian workmen; one table bore an exceptionally exquisite vase, which had been made from the broken bowl of a "galeon" or "hodji" water pipe.

Mrs. Hoffman made her tea in a real Persian brass samovar which was heated with burning charcoal and the tea, cakes, oriental jelly and nuts were served on small brass trays, bearing the tea in small Persian glasses and the nuts in small hand carved brass nut cups. A real oriental atmosphere was added by Mrs. A. B. Foster and Mrs. G. W. Thomas, who served, regaled in the full costume of a Persian woman.

Displayed on one table was a beautiful yellow and white quilt, made by the ladies of the church and with the names of a greater majority of the congregation embroidered upon. This was a gift to the Hoffmans from the missionary society.

The women were escorted through the adjoining parlor by Dr. Hoffman, who explained the mission exhibit there.

CHILDREN'S PARTY DELIGHTFUL EVENT

About 125 little tots, charming in their colorful frocks and cunning suits, greeted Elizabeth and Harriet Hoffman of Meshed, Persia, Saturday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church, when the teachers and officers of the primary and beginners' departments of the Sunday school entertained in honor of the small guests from so far away.

A period of games opened the afternoon program, with the children being separated into groups, according to ages, and then suitable games were played. Peggy Griffith entertained them with some especially pleasing readings.

At the close of the play period the children were assembled about tables in the dining room, a large H being formed by them, standing for Hoffman, and with the small honor guests seated at the center. A large sugar plum tree centered the table and dainty children's appointments added to the beauty.

Finishing their lunch Harriet and Elizabeth were presented with lovely traveling bags by the teachers of the departments and many other gifts were presented them. The children thanked the donors in a charming manner in the Persian language, both being fluent speakers in this.

The junior choir, which is directed by Thomas Webber, Jr., and Mrs. James Rugh were also guests. Those in charge of the event were Mrs. Frank Woods, superintendent of the primary department; Mrs. Robert Magill, superintendent of the beginners' department and Mrs. David Ritchie, superintendent of the kindergarten department, with their efficient corps of teachers: Mrs. Claire Chain, Mrs. Ross Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Robert McBurney, Mrs. Paul Griffith, Mrs. Fred Smith, Georgiana McNeese, Esther Fischer, Eleanor Magill, Martha McGill, Rhoda Leslie, Agnes McNeese and Lois Marion Smith.

Bridge formed the diversion of the evening hours, and at the close of play prizes for honors were given to LeRoy Johnson and David Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton received the guest favor. Mr. Westfall favored the guests with several violin solos, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dale Andrews, which were enthusiastically received.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. LeRoy Johnson and Mrs. Raymond McCartney, served a delectable collation. Green and white appointments tastefully expressed St. Patrick's day in the menu and table decorations.

Their next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCartney, 202 West Sheridan avenue in two weeks.

Open Door Class

The Open Door Class of the Third United Presbyterian church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Lutz on Sheridan avenue Friday evening.

The regular routine was carried out, and during the business transactions, the following officers were elected to serve during the year 1931: president, Harry Beighley, vice president, Edward Millison, secretary, Mrs. Mildred Bixler treasurer, Mrs. Harold Brown.

An informal social period was enjoyed during the balance of the evening, when the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Howard Burdette served a tasty lunch. Plans for their next meeting have not been definitely arranged.

O. M. K. Club Change

The O. M. K. Club members will meet Friday evening instead of Thursday at the home of Mrs. Jesse Cox, 229 Hillcrest avenue, with Mrs. John Miller acting as hostess.

BRAVO! NE-CA-HI LADS!

TO OUR way of thinking the exhibition of the New Castle high school basketball team in the W. P. I. A. L. championship tournament now in progress in Pittsburgh, is the finest that any New Castle team has displayed in recent years, and the best example of efficient work by Coach Bridenbaugh.

True, New Castle went down to defeat on Saturday night before the Duquesne high school team, and will not be the champions this year.

But, a little inspection of the facts shows that the battle put up by the New Castle high school boys this year entitles them to an abundance of credit and respect.

New Castle high teams usually are found battling for the championship honors at Pittsburgh each year, but never under circumstances such as this year.

The team that represented New Castle in the elimination this year was what can actually be termed a "green" team. Starting the season last fall, New Castle had an experienced basketball team. The five went through a schedule of games without a defeat and everything was rosy until the end of the first semester, which by the way was almost the end of the basketball season. Then, graduation and age limits lifted three of the mainstays of the team. Nothing daunting, Coach Bridenbaugh started in with new material to attempt to mould a team that would "carry on" for the remainder of the season, and carry the red and black colors at Pittsburgh.

Consequently, it was an unseasoned and untried team that went onto the floor at Pittsburgh to take part in the most important battles of the year for New Castle. How well that green team performed is told by the results. Victorious in two of the elimination games, when none had previously allowed New Castle a chance, the five was only eliminated in the semi-finals, and then by a number of real tough breaks.

It was a remarkable exhibition by the New Castle lads and one that deserves extraordinary commendation.

If New Castle had been enabled to go to Pittsburgh with the veteran team that played through the greater part of the floor season, it is probable that New Castle would easily have taken the championship.

But, the game battle put up by the untried team that went down to Pittsburgh will ever be a high spot in athletic annals of New Castle high.

Bravo, Ne-Ca-Hi!

LOOKING AHEAD

Some of the more brilliant industrialists are predicting that the United States is about to enter a period of prosperity on a firmer and more substantial basis than at any time in the past, a prosperity on an unprecedented scale. Business leadership, they state, is prepared to build in the light of knowledge of conditions and abilities such as never before existed.

They are convinced that business management can by far-sighted policies control business cycles to the extent of averting serious depressions. Even at this time, they claim, much has been accomplished in mitigating conditions.

Severe as the depression has been, it might have been worse. It might have been accompanied by panics, such as marked great business reversals in the past. Unemployment might have been more widespread.

These business leaders believe it possible to forecast business depressions far enough in advance to prepare for them and, to a large extent, avoid them. Some corporations claim they knew the break of 1929 and 1930 was coming but dared not tell the public because it would not believe them and would blame them if their predictions were fulfilled.

When a nation becomes intoxicated with prosperity it listens only to the optimist, sees only what it would like to see, believes only what it wants to believe and rushes in where at other times it would fear to tread.

'BOY' CRIMINALS

In a newspaper published in another city we saw a headline: "Boy Bank Robbers Get 26-Year Terms."

And of course we thought the story would be about some youngsters in their teens.

But one of the "boys" is 20, the two others are 22.

Scientists talk about "protracted infancy" as part of developing civilization. Childhood lasts longer, maturity comes later, when material comforts are common and caveman life far in the background.

But WE do not call a 22-year-old man a boy!

And we believe this free and easy present day use of the word "boy" reflects and to some extent contributes to a bad condition.

A companion picture of the 22-year-old being regarded as a boy when he does something wrong is that of the 12-year-old youngster calling himself and his pals men. His childish self-assurance is amusing; it is also important, because if he thinks being a man means being exempt from all rule of authority he is apt to get into trouble, but if he thinks being a man means keeping things right, he is developing his best powers.

A man of voting age is not a "boy bank robber," and the Connecticut Court that handed out manzine sentences to these youthful criminals showed a sense of fitness we all might well copy in calling boys boys and men men, and treating each as what they are.

TRAFFIC CHANNEL DEMANDS GROW

The Holland Tunnel which links New York with New Jersey last year showed an increase of 13 per cent in net income over 1929. The profit was $5,064,136.41, realized from the 12,066,777 vehicles handled—a 10 per cent increase. Meanwhile, $11,988.91 was whittled from expenses. The average Sunday and holiday traffic was 46,600 and the weekday average 30,287. Depression hits automobile traffic the same as all other activities yet this enterprise, says the Dayton News, dependent on automobile traffic for its revenues, was able to record a notable increase in business.

When the Holland Tunnel was built, some were doubtful that it would ever pay for itself. Such doubts were quickly dispelled once the tube was thrown open. The same was true of the Panama Canal; now the talk is of a second canal to take care of the overflow. When the Delaware river bridge was built between Philadelphia and New Jersey, canal observers wondered not whether the venture would prove worth while, but how soon another such bridge would be needed. Who plans the channels for modern commercial traffic must be farsighted.

Where Jack London Lived
Just as It Was Set Your Hearts Flaming!

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I went where Jack London lived to the purple and gold Valley of the Moon where he wrote his tales and lived so richly. The vineyards were bare against the wet hillslopes, because it was the California spring, but he knew them when the leaves were all scarlet and the grapes hung black in clusters.

The great eucalyptus trees stood as he knew them, only taller, just as splendid. I passed a great oak by the road; he passed it many times. There was that mighty madone that Jack London loved and the red berries still blazoned upon its branches.

I saw a lean rabbit leave shelter and leap across the road and into a manzanita bush; some ancestor of that timid fellow leaped in just such a way from beneath the feet of Jack London's riding horses or from the wheels of his buckboard.

Except for a gasoline station, perhaps, the little town of Glen Ellen was just as Jack London knew it. The stables where his proud Percherons, his thoroughbred cattle and pigs were housed are still there. The ranch is still alive, though Jack has been gone these many years. The swimming pool he built was drained when I was there, but the waters ran swift and brown down the creek and filled to the brim a natural pool where Jack London, many a time, had used to swim. A dog barked, a yellow cat licked a litter of kittens. And as the sun sank away, all those rolling hills that London loved were splashed with color, with greens and blues and crimson and all the gallant tints of life.

It was strange to be where a strong man lived and to find the good earth as beautiful and as strong as he had found it. I didn't know London, and I saw him but once. He came to a group of young fellows, still in school, and talked to them. He was a little scornful of us, I think because we were still in school instead of in life.

He had learned more, he said, from oyster pirates and vagabonds and children of the abyss than we would ever learn from books and professors. He told us so and so more than half believed him. And he said one thing I have not forgotten.

He stood there before us with his eyes flashing and his hand on his open hand and shouted: "You must set your hearts flaming against a wall for all to see!" And we could see the wall before us, and we could see our red hearts flaming there, and we knew that the wall he meant was Life Itself, and that our flaming hearts were the things a man must do in this world to justify his little life.

Then he left us, and we were very subdued boys for a little while. We wanted to laugh it off, but we couldn't. He had held our young hearts in his two strong hands, he had burned something into us, and we worshipped him. So it was like a pilgrimage, going to the place where Jack London had lived and died. They said, when he died, that he was "burned out," but I saw his heart still flaming on those sunset hills of the Valley of the Moon. I tell you I saw it!

DO IT ON YOUR OWN!

An "inferiority complex" is a common expression nowadays for those who seem to lack the courage to forge ahead.

Perhaps you lack faith in your own judgment.

Before you make a decision you seek the support of others.

You avoid taking the responsibility of your decision.

You want others to share the blame for your mistakes.

You do not feel so chagrined over errors on your part if you can charge it to the advice of So-and-so.

Offer in your place of business asking the advice of those you are hiding positions beneath you.

This is not so much for the purpose of gaining information as to shift some part of the blame if the wrong decision is made.

You have not studied things out and relied enough on your own judgment in regard to your work to the extent of being positive in your knowledge and clean-cut in action.

You want to save yourself hard work.

So you satisfy yourself with a smattering of the things a person in your position should know instead of devoting yourself to research that counts.

Business Rivalry In Divorce
Raises Issue Of Uniform Law

Efforts Of States To Make Residence Provisions More Attractive Declared To Offer Reasons For Federal Intervention

Recent efforts of several States to compete for divorce cases from other States are put by the American public in the class of business competition, and it is suggested that, in its approach to "big business" in this sphere, it is inevitably leading to Federal laws governing residents provisions that have been chief factors in the competition.

"Marriages, we grant, is not always a success," says the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL. "There are occasions when divorce is the sensible and logical way out of a bad marital entanglement. On the other hand, it is a mistake to make divorce too easy." That paper concludes that "if Arkansas, Montana and South Dakota seek to replenish their State coffers with fees derived through easy divorce laws, the shame must be theirs."

Referring to a "mail-order proposal" introduced by a Nevada legislator, the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE expresses skepticism as to the logic of the idea, "for the main profits of the divorce business are derived from the residence requirement which maintains a more or less free spending divorce colony." That paper adds that reduction of the 90-day residence to six weeks would "cut these takings considerably," but it is "better to collect six weeks' pickings than to lose the business entire to competing States."

"It is going to be a spirited fight between these States to obtain and hold the business," declares the NEW LONDON DAY, with the suggestion that "divorce is evidently being taken quite seriously as big business, and it can be seen that 'high pressure' salesmanship by the States is being applied to bring into those States the 'cream of the business.'" Mentioning Nevada, Montana, Idaho and Arkansas, the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION says: "sordid motives," and remarks: "How far the movement may go, or how many States may join in the rivalry, is pretty hard to guess." The NEW BEDFORD STANDARD finds it illuminating that "the State is handicapped, in comparison with Nevada, by too strict gambling laws."

Observing that "hotels, gamblers and so on are reaping the profit," the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH concludes that "a great social question is being decided on a cash-and-carry basis." The ALLENTOWN MORNING CALL states that "the trade is estimated to be worth three million a year to the Nevada city, which is a very snug sum to be poured into a city of Reno's size." The SCRANTON TIMES declares that "the four Western States now making a grand rush for the divorce business from the East must think that most of us are getting tired of the marital state," and that "it must be believed we are a quarrelsome lot back in these parts."

The objection to a 90-day divorce law, the CHAMPAIGN NEWS-GAZETTE, "is based on the fact that such a measure is not passed for the benefit of the people who reside in the state. It is for the purpose of luring people to the state for the brief period that is specified in the law. Easy divorce may be defended in all sincerity, and excellent arguments may be put forth in its support. But when divorce is made easy merely to attract misadvised men and women to a particular locality, such action would appear to be below the dignity of a state that is concerned in preserving the home as the bulwark of American life."

"Legislators and governors," as viewed by the KANSAS CITY STAR, "just can't resist the temptation to vote for relief in some form these days. Relief from marital ties, however, may be only temporary at best. It is assumed that most persons establishing a 90-day residence in a state merely to sue for divorce are not going to take up permanent residence in such a state. The state that permits quick divorce thereby announces to the rest of the country, 'This is a good state to be divorced in; although you perhaps may not want to live here longer than three months.'"

A different point of view is represented by the comment of the PASADENA STAR-NEWS, which offers the opinion as to the agitation in several States: "A survey of state legislatures in session this winter shows that proponents of easier divorce laws are being worsted by opponents of this weakening of the marriage tie. Very few measures have been enacted. The road to divorce smoother to reduce divorce residence from one year to sixty days was referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee, just why referred to this committee does not appear, unless it be to give notice that such legislation would have a rough road to travel, with the bridges out, blocking the way to the final passage of the measure. Wyoming has killed two similar bills in recent years."

The TEXARKANA GAZETTE argues: "If divorces are to be passed out merely for the asking, when accompanied by the proper fees, why make the applicants wait 90 days or even a month? The only argument against the shorter period is that it would reduce the profits of the divorce colony hotels." The ST. LOUIS TIMES concludes: "For mercantile or commercial reasons Nevada cannot allow Arkansas, Idaho or some other rival commonwealth to take all or a percentage of this trade, which is mostly clear profit. Divorce has thus joined the trend of the hour and become a big business. So far, however, it has defied the rule of expanding and at the same time merging. There is not a merger in a court-load."

"The old argument for uniform important matters gains new force," in the judgment of the CLEVELAND NEWS. The query suggested by the CHARLESTON (W. VA.) DAILY MAIL is: "Once the passion for easy money is acquired, when and where will the quest be ended?"

The States involved, as the matter appeals to the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "are playing directly into the hands of the advocates of Federal control." The Bulletin also records: "At first the attempt was to induce the States to adopt a uniform law on the subject. Little headway having been made in that direction, a movement for a Constitutional amendment has been launched. Senator Capper has been its sponsor in Congress. It proposes to empower Congress to make laws which shall be uniform throughout the United States on marriage and divorce, the legitimation of children, and the care and custody of children affected by annulment of marriage or by divorce."

The exacting test of one gearing used 9,000 gallons of fuel, sufficient to drive a motor car 10,000 miles a year for some twenty years, or to carry a 20-miles-a-gallon car seven times around the world.

VIVIAN GORDON CASE ENLIVENED

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—The trial of Vivian Gordon, brought an unexpected turn today to the investigation of her murder.

It also precipitated a sudden revival of the Rothstein murder case and the attempted assassination of Jack ("Legs") Diamond. And a ruthless exposure of the forces veiling the three-plot murder mystery was promised.

The March Federal grand jury has taken the matter in its own hands. It has notified United States Attorney Medall that it will take advantage of its legal powers and reopen its investigation of a year ago wherein it condemned corruption and inefficiency in the New York Federal Narcotic Bureau.

It is the intention of the grand jury to determine why recommendations it made for improving conditions in the local narcotic unit were never followed out. It also seeks to find out why certain agents it recommended for dismissal or transfer were never dismissed or transferred.

Medall has notified the attorney-general's office of the grand jury's intention to proceed alone.

Annual Meeting Primitive Church

Rev. W. C. Tyrrell Will Be Retained As Pastor During The Coming Year

One of the most enthusiastic annual church meetings ever held in the Primitive Methodist church was held last week in the church with over one hundred present for the purpose of choosing a pastor for the coming conference year and the election of officers.

Isaac George was chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Henry Gibson acted as secretary. Several nominations were made for pastor but Rev. W. C. Tyrrell was chosen by a large majority and at the Sunday service he announced his acceptance of the call to remain another year.

The past year has been a successful one, under his guidance; a number of accessions were made to the church and the prayer meetings have been meetings of spiritual blessings and although financially the church has not done so well the past year, that has been attributed to the times of depression.

The officers chosen were: Stewards—Isaac George, Charles Ashton, Harry Ashton and May Sands; the church clerk, Mrs. Henry Gibson; trustees—Charles Ashton, Evan Jones and John Richardson.

Isaac George and A. Sands were chosen to attend the annual conference as delegates to Pittsburgh, April 29.

Local Organist Gains Recognition

Given Great Credit For His Work By Harvey Gaul Of Pittsburgh

Garth Edmundson organist of the First Baptist church of this city, is fast becoming known throughout the United States and even abroad as a composer of most excellent compositions for use on pipeorgans. This fact will be most pleasing news to his many friends in this city.

Just how great is his success is told by Harvey Gaul of Pittsburgh, one of the greatest known musical experts of the present day.

He has the following to say concerning the work of Mr. Edmundson:—"From the press of H. W. Gray company, New York, comes an imposing composition for organ by Garth Edmundson, the brilliant young-organist of New Castle, and a man well known here."

This new work is "Concert Variations" and starts with an atmospheric prelude which gives way to a chorale-like subject, which the pedal then takes up while the manuals go rippling along in triplets. A diverting scherzo takes up the subject, with a key shift, and an allegro pedal cadenza runs into a toccato-like finale.

"Congratulations go to Edmundson for his attractive work and for the organist looking for a novelty, it is to be recommended. It will fill a stunning spot on any program. Look it over."

NO TEACHERS TO BE HIRED

Richeson Slashes $70,000 From His Department's Expenditures

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 16.—Applications for teaching jobs in the Youngstown public schools will fall on stony ground, Supt. J. J. Richeson announced today, pointing out that $70,000 must be sliced from the expenditures of his department to meet a $500,000 general budget shortage.

The total amount saved in teachers' salaries will be $32,000. This will mean that 48 teachers will have to resign before any others are hired. "No one will lose his job, however," Richeson assured.

Richeson presented his reduction program to the board finance committee last week.

Other reductions include: $22,500 for kindergartens; $3,500 for supplies; $5,000 for textbooks; $1,700 in clerical help; $500 from night schools.

Make Burial Plans For Girl Killed In Automobile Mishap

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Mar. 16.—Funeral preparations were being arranged today for Margaret Maloney, 19, who died of a fractured skull and facial injuries when the automobile in which she was a passenger, skidded and crashed into an abutment on the Lincoln highway, near Twin Oaks, Pa., about 17 miles east of here. Will Irwin, 26, driver of the machine, escaped with cuts and facial lacerations.

Gas on Stomach Is Dangerous

Gas, pain, bloating and sourness after eating almost always mean "too much acid" in the stomach. The condition is dangerous. Acid irritates the stomach lining and may lead to Ulcers. Gas forms and presses against the heart. The stomach needs an alkaline. Bisurated Magnesia—powder or tablets—is the ideal method of getting safe, quick, lasting relief. It neutralizes the excess acid, sweetens the stomach, breaks up the gas, stops the pain and sourness. Food digests naturally. It must give prompt relief or money back say New Castle Drug Co. and druggists everywhere who sell it on this iron clad guarantee.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like Cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?

Hard Coal Prices Will Be Slashed

Anthracite Operators Hope To Win New Markets And Keep Mines Open

(International News Service) ASHLAND, Pa., Mar. 16.—In a determined effort to win new markets and keep the mines operating during the dull season, operators in the anthracite regions will make drastic reductions in hard coal prices this spring, it was reliably reported here today.

No date has been set for the price cut, but officials of two large producing firms stated they believe it will be made early next month and that prices will be cut $1.50 to $2 per ton.

In the past, prices have been reduced from 50 cents to a dollar a ton in April, depending on size of the coal. Now, because of improved heating apparatus, small size coal is greatest demand, according to operators five washeries have sprung up in the lower coal fields and more are to open this summer.

Operation of the washeries, installation of labor saving machinery and retrenchment has saved producers great sums, it is said, and the saving will be passed on to the public.

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa., Mar. 16.—Chief of Police John Edward Dowden is suing for divorce. He alleged that his duties as an officer took him away from his home at night and that his wife, Alice L. Open Winter Aids Work Of Joining Railroad Lines

Western Roads Take Advantage Of Conditions To Carry On Projects

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 16.—A new transcontinental hookup bringing the Great Northern and Western Pacific railroad systems together is rapidly nearing completion as construction crews rapidly close the 120-mile gap between the Northern's railroad at Klamath Falls and the Western's main line at Keddle, Calif.

An open winter has favored contractors and hundreds of men have received employment during the winter months as the two construction camps approach Bieber, Calif., where they will meet.

Although the Great Northern has somewhat more of the line to build, most of the engineering problems are on the Western Pacific's end, where the new line climbs up out of the Feather River canyon. With the completion of the road one of the fondest dreams of James J. Hill, pioneer railroad builder, will be fulfilled as Great Northern trains roar down the Deschutes river, through Klamath and the Sacramento valley and into San Francisco.

From Klamath Falls the new right-of-way traverses the fertile Klamath basin for about 20 miles, passing the famous Modoc lava beds, Indian war ground, and plunges into the heavy timber on the east slope of the Sierra.

Bieber, junction point, is in the heart of Big Valley an agricultural region that is expected to develop with the advent of rail transportation.

South of Bieber the Western Pacific continues along the timbered plateau, passes a few miles east of Lassen Volcanic National park, skirts the shores of Lake Almanor and drops into the Feather River canyon, where it joins the main line of the Western Pacific 75 miles east of Oroville.

From this point traffic will flow over the Western Pacific down the Sacramento valley, through Sacramento and Stockton and thence to Oakland and San Francisco.

Poultry Dealer Waters Stock

(International News Service)

DENVER, Col., Mar. 16.—Selling water at poultry prices is the latest racket discovered by investigators for the state pure food and drug commissioner.

A poultry dealer, and three employees were recently arrested when investigators found them with a hypodermic needle and six feet of hose attached to a faucet. They were forcing water into the bodies of dressed poultry, according to charges.

Friday and Saturday are the largest days in point of sales for the firm. Sim Loeb, state commissioner said, "Frequently as many as 1,000 chickens are dressed for sale on these days. We believe many of these chickens have been adulterated with a pound or more water."

Poultry was selling at prices ranging from 11 to 27 cents per pound on the day Leback and his assistants were arrested.

burst of speed which may ultimately lead to a solution of the existing impasse.

Many Bills in House
The House, when it meets tonight, will have nine third reading, 42 second reading and 11 first bills on its calendar.

Among the third reading measures are the Shortz bill, which would deny public service companies the right to impose upon consumers a penalty greater than interest at the legal rate for failure to pay bills promptly, and the first and second-class township bills, political subdivisions.

The Senate calendar tonight will carry three third reading bills and 29 second reading measures.

The Homers bill authorizing narrow gauge railroads to change their tracks to standard gauge is on third reading, as is the Scott bill, amending the act empowering the Department of Highways to acquire toll bridges by eliminating the proviso which restricts the acquisition of such bridges until moneys are provided by constitutional amendment.

Richards Bill Up
The House bill sponsored by Representative Richards, Lawrence, empowering courts to order the release of criminally insane persons for deportation by the federal government, is also on the order of passage in the upper chamber.

Appropriating $25,000 to pay expenses on the House utility investigation committee, the Turner resolution will be passed on second reading in the lower chamber tonight and will probably be finally adopted tomorrow.

Investigations of the utilities and the public service commission by committees of both houses are still holding up the general legislative program and members of both chambers today gave evidence that they are getting irked at the impotency of the Assembly.

Measures Held Up
Senate measures are being held up in the House. House measures are being held up in the Senate. Several major pieces of legislation have not yet been presented and members are fearful of the fate of "pet" bills in the present turmoil.

Already forecasts are being made that the session will adjourn without passage of much remedial legislation, thus necessitating the calling of a special session of the General Assembly next year.

Leadership in both chambers is so divided no one is able to control the situation, and at present the chief hope of most members is for a leader out of the legislative wilderness.

failures rather than after the condition has reached proportions which necessitate taking over an institution.

The statement also discussed the building and loan situation in Philadelphia where thousands of small investors have been robbed of their savings by crooked officials. The department of banking for several years has been supervising the merging of such associations in an effort to protect investors.

Statement
The statement follows:
"The first duty of the department of banking is to protect the depositors in banks. To succeed in this, the department must protect the banks also."

"Such protection can best be given by prompt action that will prevent bank failures rather than by taking banks over after they have failed. The department will, therefore, be in continuous contact with the condition of each bank through the medium of a proper system of control.

"The first responsibility for the condition of a bank must rest with the directors and officers of a bank. The department must see that they live up to it."

"The time to act is when reports to the department of banking begin to show that deposits may be menaced. When it is discovered that officers of any bank have been guilty of criminal acts under the banking laws, as in the case of the John Bell bank failure, they must not be continued in office."

"The closest possible cooperation between the department of banking and the Clearing House associations is necessary to aid needy banks. Similar cooperation with credit clearing organizations should prevent unwise duplication of loans made without knowledge of what loans other banks have already granted."

Clean Up Planned

"At present the most important task before the department of banking is to clean up the building and loan situation in this state. Building and loan associations are the interest of depositors and investors. In this time of depression their responsibility is particularly heavy and its task especially delicate. Under the Pinchot administration it will have every desire to be helpful. But in my opinion the first condition of a successful banking administration is to act promptly on the first intimation of trouble instead of letting that trouble develop to serious proportions. That will be the policy of the department of banking under this administration."

Soup In Any Tongue, Is Boast Of Hotel

Chicago Hostelry Has Many

CHICAGO, Ill., Mar. 16.—That soup can be ordered in seventeen languages and properly served is the boast of a leading hotel here.

Ice water is known to the dining room staff in nine different tongues and coffee may be obtained even if demanded in Russian, German, Swiss or Arabic.

The bus boy addressed in Croatian, French or Spanish, will politely replenish your butter.

Members of the staff will soon be able to speak 21 languages according to Manager Bernard B. Wilson.

"We are planning to increase our linguistic abilities in preparation for the coming World's Fair in Chicago," he said. "Inquiries about reservations have already started coming in from far-away lands, and we want every guest, regardless of his country to feel perfectly at home home stopping with us."

Among the 300 employees of the hotel are many men of high professional standing to their native lands reduced to dish washing, and pantry service while adjusting themselves to American conditions.

AUTO CRASHES INTO CULVERT NORTH OF CITY

Bellevue. Mr. Stevenson sustained a fractured ankle, ribs, other injuries and is suffering from shock.

The three persons were brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital in three ambulances and an investigation was started immediately by Coroner James P. Caldwell and State Highway patrolman Sarko.

Owing to the highly nervous condition of Mr. Stevenson it is not known exactly how the accident occurred as the place where the car left the highway is a clear stretch. According to a statement made today by a son who visited Mr. Stevenson, the party had earlier in the day taken Miss Annabelle Stevenson to New Wilmington where she is a student at Westminster College.

Losses Control Of Car

Returning Mr. Stevenson evidently became confused, and it is believed lost control of the auto and it plunged into the abutment. The car is believed to have left the highway a short distance from where it struck the abutment.

It plunged headlong into the concrete structure. The motor was forced beneath the dashboard and one of the seats was torn loose. The windshield was completely demolished. The women occupied the rear seat.

The injured were taken immediately into Shady Grove building where a physician, rendered aid. Ambulances were summoned and all were rushed to the hospital here.

Mrs. Stevenson lived about 15 minutes after she had been admitted.

The body of Mrs. Stevenson today was taken to Bellevue for interment. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Joseph Wadell Stevenson, Bellevue; Mrs. Margaret, Alston Mountz, Nutley, N. J.; Clarence F. Stevenson, Jr., Bellevue; and Annabelle Stevenson, Westminster student, also of Bellevue.

Mrs. Rutherford is survived by two sons, Francis Rutherford of Lancaster, O., and George Rutherford of New York. Francis arrived here this morning and George is on the way.

DENIAL MADE BY TWO OTHERS IN STORE ROBBERY

He said that he is a former resident of Lawrence county, having lived at Hillsville from 1910 to 1920. He then moved to Youngstown with his wife and three children. He has been engaged in the real estate business.

He said that on the afternoon of December 13th he had parked his Lincoln car on South Walnut street and had gone to the Park Theater about 5:30 or 6 o'clock. He had remained at the theater until about 7:30 p. m. The play was "Man's Trouble." He came out of the theater on the Federal street side and met Joe Garwood. He said that Joe had asked him to take him home and he had agreed. They started for the car, but when they arrived at where Raniolo had left it, they found it missing. On the way Raniolo said that he had spoken to a barber named Tom Jones and several others whom he knew.

Finding his car missing he had reported it to the police. Later he called up Detective Gip and also told him about the theft. Gip replied that some bootlegger must have taken it.

He said that the next he heard of the car was on Sunday afternoon when he was notified that it had been found on the Pulaski road. He went to investigate and found the car badly wrecked. When he arrived he found Constable McClellan of New Bedford, and a couple of Youngstown police officers.

Raniolo denied that he had been in New Wilmington on the evening of December 13th and that he had anything to do with the robbery. He said that he had never seen Mr. Klump until he met him in the Youngstown police headquarters. He also denied that he was acquainted with Sankert and Desmond.

Witnesses were called who claimed that they had talked to Raniolo at the times he had indicated.

John Sankert, one of the other defendants, testified that he had been at home on the evening of December 13th. He remembered the date distinctly because he had bought a pair of slippers for his mother on her birthday. His sister, who was employed at New Castle at that time had bought a string of beads.

Sankert denied that he had any connection with the robbery, or that he knew Desmond and Raniolo.

The case is still on trial.

Mr. Hoover will occupy the quarters of Captain Charles Seymour Freeman, skipper of the Arizona, consisting of a stateroom, messroom and bath.

It is planned to stop only at Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Although press of time forced the President to forego visiting Cuba on the return from his South America tour.

Good Will tour while president-elect conditions in the Island Republic are so unsettled at present it has been thought best to repay President Machado's visit to Washington at some later date.

The privacy Mr. Hoover will enjoy aboard the Arizona will enable him to map out the eight speeches he has scheduled for April, May and June. These speeches will be regarded in many quarters as the opening of his campaign for renomination and re-election.

This is particularly true of the address he will make on June 15 at Indianapolis before the Indiana Republican state editorial association. There, facing a friendly audience the President may make some statements which will have a distinct bearing on the next campaign.

Other important speeches including a memorial day address at Valley Forge, Pa., the long deferred dedication of Warren G. Harding's tomb at Marion, O., and one at Springfield, Ill., at the tomb of Lincoln.

Old School Book Collection Starts With First Donation

Belief of New Castle school leaders and others interested in early school books used in the first schools of the city and county, that the idea of their collection would prove a success became apparent today with announcement by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, of the first book donation.

Now comes Mrs. C. A. Furgione of 716 Erie avenue with seven old-time school books for the collection. Two of the books, Osgood's Progressive Fourth and Fifth Readers dated from 1858, and were used by Mrs. Furgione's grandmother, Mary Jane Meek when she went to the old Brewsters school in North Beaver township.

A collection of school books is being made by a committee appointed by Dr. Green. This collection will be placed in a glass-covered case provided for that purpose and kept in the professional library of the school administration building, East street.

MISS 1931 IS SIMPLE AND ELEGANT

Lucien Lelong, Paris dressmaker, declares that young girls have never been so interesting as now. Their clothes are simple and elegant without being priggish. Their bobbed heads are nicely coiffed, their hats, shoes, stockings and gloves harmonize with their ensemble.

Two Lelong costumes for young miss 1931 are sketched. Above, a traveling costume of dark green woolen material for the jacket with the skirt in fancy woolen—dark green, red and black. The other a sport coat of beige fancy woolen trimmed with brown fur.

Woman's Actions Cause Of Arrest

Being Held By Police Pending Further Investigation Of Conduct

Following numerous calls Saturday afternoon from South Side doctors and also from Rev. P. V. Stancelewski to the effect that there was a woman begging money and acting in a suspicious manner, in that district, officers were detailed to investigate.

Officers Moore and Shaner picked up the woman near Division street about five o'clock and took her to the police station, where she claimed her name was Helen Burns and finally admitted that she had been begging. She also finally told of rooming in a North Mill street apartment house. In the meantime Father Stancelewski appeared at the police station and after seeing her, stated that she was not the woman he had reported about.

The officers went to the apartment and on arriving there, a man in the rooms jumped out a rear window and made his escape down the fire escape. Another man, who gave the name of Earl Bowers and claimed Harrisburg as his home was found in the apartment and arrested. The woman claimed that she was from Washington, Pa.

The fact of the arrest was placed on the state police teletype system and in a short time, a message was received from Captain Mally of the Uniontown police to the effect that he believed the woman under arrest was probably Pearl Burns and the man who escaped William Burns, who he had under arrest at that place a year ago last Christmas.

The state and federal narcotic authorities were notified and stated that officers would be sent here for them. This morning, they were fingerprinted, photographed and questioned by State Police Officers May, Moran and Denton from the Butler barracks. They are still being held for the narcotic department authorities, who have not yet arrived. It

Tender Charter To New Bedford Troop

Fitting Exercises Of Scouts At Hopewell Church Mark Occasion

Marking the presentation of its annual re-registration charter, Boy Scout Troop No. 1 of New Bedford last night observed a special program in the place of the customary evening service at the Hopewell Presbyterian church. A large percentage of the congregation attended.

The Rev. John Orr, pastor of the church delivered the chief address of the evening. He took for his theme "The Boy Joseph." The address as a whole was most interesting, especially so his references to the British scouts who served during King George's coronation.

Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton, in behalf of the county council, presented the charter.

Mr. Horton told the church that during its six years of service, the troop has proven itself an asset to the community at many times. It represented the county for four years in the regional camping jamboree, and at the present time four of its boys are attending colleges. Scoutmaster Irwin Ropp is a former president of the County Scout Leaders club, and to him goes considerable credit for the troop's success.

Officials and scouts registered this year at New Bedford are Troop Committeemen W. D. Cooper, chairman; C. A. Moorehouse, H. O. Hoyer, Scoutmaster Irwin Ropp, Assistant Scoutmasters Herbert Boyd, Russell Bailey, Theodore Ropp and Wylie Wallace, and Scouts Ralph Boyd, Dick Boyd, John C. Hoyer, Robert Hoyer, William Hoyer, Alfred Keglarise, John Keglarise, John Nowak, John Papa, James Whitting and Cassius Zedaker.

Postmaster Talks Site Matter Today

Postmaster Edwin Crawford was awaiting a conference this afternoon with a downtown property owner at which the matter of the new postoffice was to be discussed. He was to give out definite instructions regarding bid submittal.

Last week the postmaster was authorized to solicit proposals for possible sites for the new building here. A $525,000 appropriation has been made for the project.

Of course one sound neutralizes another. Wait and see how the note of pessimism is stilled by the first crack of a bat against a fast one.

Young Man Is Shot To Death And Thrown Off Building In New York City

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—A new technique in gangland murder was investigated by police today after they found the body of Alfred Medrich, 23, sprawled in a cement courtyard in the rear of a loft building. He had been shot and then dropped from the roof, six stories up.

Myer Feinman, 23, arrested with two other youths, admitted killing Medrich, according to police. They said Feinman claimed he killed the youth because he had "squealed" on dice games. An earlier theory that Medrich had been murdered because he testified for the state in Long Beach, Long Island, election fraud cases was discarded.

Joe Cduerak of 921 North Liberty street complained to Officer Criswell while the latter was on Mahoning avenue Sunday that some unknown person had stolen a toilet from the cellar of his property at Officer Criswell continued on down the street and came upon a car coming out of a side street. He stopped it and found Tony Shish, 1109 1/2 Scioto street, in charge of it and Steve Pasko or 1212 South Jefferson street with him. He found the toilet in the rear of the car Shish claimed that he had been told it was to be given to a church and he had secured it in an outhouse. He finally agreed to pay for a new toilet for the owner and the matter was dropped.

Evidently the senate debate over Muscle Shoals proved there were more high explosives in the project than the war department realized—The Kansas City Times.

Pilot Parachutes To Safety When Plane Runs Into Snow And Sleet Storm

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—Running into a snow and sleet storm which heavily coated the wings of his plane with ice, Verne Treat, an air mail pilot, went "over the side" of his plane late last night and parachuted to safety on the earth near Laurel, Md.

His abandoned plane crashed about a mile away and was demolished. Treat telephoned postal officials, and then spent the balance of the night at a farm house. The mail was recovered this morning and sent on to Richmond, Va., its destination.

Treat left the Camden airport last night for Richmond. He first began to experience trouble near Baltimore. He attributed it to the ice clogging the controls and the pitch blackness of the night.

An Open Letter to the School Teachers of This Community

The Jiles Shoppe has always been proud of the fact that from its very inception the profession of School Teachers have shown a decided preference for our shoppe and have made it their rendezvous when seeking the new—the smart and the unusual, in a costume. Because of the close association, it is but natural for us to keep their discriminating tastes in mind when buying new wearables, to select Suits, Frocks and Coats adapted for their specific needs, both for indoor and outdoor wear.

This season we have been particular "choicy" in our spring buying, and by the looks of things the fruits of our labors are a joy to behold, each frock is a delight to the eye and the charm of the Coats is beyond mere words, one would have to get "gushy" to describe them.

We feel that you will be decidedly pleased when you view our selections for your spring wardrobe, and invite your critical judgment. You will be additionally delighted when you see how economically they are all priced.

Cordially yours,

THE JILES SHOPPE.

Sees Hoover Veto Of Muscle Shoals As Bid To Battle

Indications Point To Renewal Of Fight Between President And Congress

Past Session Of Congress Reviewed As Opportunity For Solons To Be Heroes

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of
The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 16.—
Maybe a lot of people who think that President Hoover heaved a sigh of relief when the hands of the clock pointed to the hour of noon on March fourth wouldn't be so sure of themselves if they went off into a corner for a while and thought over the events of the session just ended. Oh, of course, the President didn't want a special session and the idea of a rest may have been welcome at the White House, but the assumption that Mr.
Hoover was glad to retire into his corner for the application of sticking plaster and restoratives until next December seems just a bit fac-tious.

The last session was good fun for everybody. It made entertaining reading for the folk back home and for those noise-loving Congressmen who always hurry to scrutinize the home-town papers for the headlines over that speech or statement to the press the day before. It reminded one of that used-to-be popular circus event where half a dozen huge colored fellows all climbed into a boxing ring at once and in high good humor spent the next ten minutes socking each other with what looked to the spectator to be damaging blows.

Hoover in .telec
Nobody really got hurt very much last session—there was too much fighting for that. Everybody was punching, and getting punched back.

It was sort of a happy state of equilibrium with somebody hitting you in the eye to knock you down and some other sly body who didn't like your company stepping on your toes at the same time, all unintentionally neutralizing the effect of that knuckle exploring your eye socket.

Aggressive person that he is,
President Hoover was actively in this melee hand and foot from beginning to end. And it's entirely probable that he was less tired and wasn't puffing so hard as his contemporaries on Capitol Hill when the noon hour of March fourth ushered the Seventy-first Congress into the historian's morgue.

In fact, it is hard to interpret the veto of the Muscle Shoals bill as anything other than an invitation from the White House to continue the scrap. Far from being down and out, the President was literally sticking his chin out at those in Congress who didn't like him and challenging them to do their worst. Mr. Hoover wasn't crying for quarter!

Viewed as a whole, the last session presented truly excellent opportunities for the "resident as well as members of Congress to enhance their public standing. It was a field day for political knights. It offered Senators and Representatives chance after chance to make beautiful speeches for home consumption and equally as well invited the President to stand by his guns, defy Congress and become a true hero. It was really an admirable setting for effective action.

The Veterans Bill
Take, just for instance, that row over the veterans loan bill. How splendid it was for Senator David
I. Walsh, huge Democrat from Massachusetts, to get to his feet and with a break in his voice plead for the veterans and their little ones!
And how daring for eighty-year-old

Senator Frederick Gillett of the same State, slight, stooped scholarly Republican to rise 'hind his desk and denounce the views of his colleague! How reckless and gallant for the President to call Repu-lican leaders to the White House and say—I am not asking you to follow me but there can be no compromise and I shall veto the bonus bill.

And the proposal that $25,000,000
be given the Red Cross for food—nobody will forget that. How could one ever forget the picture of rugged Senator Caraway of Arkansas, who usually walks with a sneer on his face and his chin outflung, standing before the Senate, hands outstretched in a gesture of appeal, tears on his cheeks, and pleading in a broken voice for food for little children? And over in the House, Republican Floor Leader Tilton, deserted by his friends—Speaker Longworth and Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee—shouting, gesticulating, defying, and then cajoling the House into voting down the food appropriation. Wasn't there the thrill of combat in that?

Dramatic Scenes
And again at the White House, the picture of a man who is big without being soft, unswayed by sentiment, impervious to emotion, studying, checking, listening and then shaking his head with quiet determination. Can anybody forget that decision of his—the Red Cross has the situation in hand; there can be no deal!

Ah, it was a session unequalled in dramatic gestures in years. It brought into bold relief those elements the voting public adores—pathos, anger, bluster, bravado, conflict, snarling, and aloof proof.
It was packed with sentimental pleadings, stubborn opposition, headlines.

But now the session is over and a lot of somnambulists are laboring under the idea that Mr. Hoover is filled with personal gratitude over the arrival of March fourth. That's fudge! Insofar as Mr. Hoover's reactions are concerned, the hocuspocus of his enemies on Capitol Hill is about as effective as the heartbeat of a rabbit against a mountain.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments.
During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.
If you have a pale face, hollow eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling,
all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Foundation Established For Parents

Child Understanding Aided By Work At University

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Last September the president of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa., announced a series of weekly lecture conferences to be given throughout the school year by the department of child helping of that university.

Mrs. William T. Carter of Philadelphia had, for 25 years, maintained at Redington, Pa., in memory of her husband, "The William T. Carter Junior Republic, a school for the training of boys for useful citizenship." At the head of which was James Samuel Heberling, A. M.

Mrs. Carter finally came to the conclusion that most could be done for helping children by the "education of parents and teachers to the necessity and in the methods of reaching a proper understanding of the individual child." She decided, therefore, to relinquish the "Junior Republic" and establish in its stead a foundation to be administered by the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania through the medium of a professorship in child helping,
to be known as "The William T.
Carter Child Helping Foundation."

Professor James Struthers Heberling occupies that chair. This remarkable man, a veritable dynamo of energy, sympathy and human understanding, is doing a great deal for parents and children. The university makes his services free to groups and individuals. To him come parents from all parts of the country. Co-operating with him are the medical school and the psychological laboratory of the university. At the head of that clinic is the eminent Professor Lightner Witmer, with whom I had the privilege to study (1909-1910).

These Wednesday lecture conferences are open free to the public, and are attended by hundreds of fathers and mothers from wide areas. Professor Heberling conducts some of these meetings; others are led by experts from different parts of the United States.

I had the honor to lead the one on January 28, a most responsive group, nearly all of whom seemed to engage in the open forum. Subject:
"Everyday Mistakes of Everyday Parents With Their Children."

Professor Heberling speaks over WCAU, Philadelphia, at 3:15 p. m., Eastern Standard time, each Thursday from March 12 to April 30, inclusive. He is well worth hearing.

EASIEST WAY TO BREAK UP A COLD

Millions Say of This Proved Way

Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before
You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets every three hours. Drink lots of water between times—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

Uncle Sam Will Send All Aliens Home For Nothing

Aliens Here Less Than Three Years Can Get Sent Home
Without Cost

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—Uncle Sam announced today that he'll foot the bill for any alien, jobless and here for less than three years, who wants to go back to his home country.

Benjamin A. Day, commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island, said a fund is now available for paying fares of those who can prove they are destitute and who are in this country under the 3-year provision.

They may apply to any charitable organization for the necessary blank or at the immigration office at the United States Barge office at the Battery. The only requirement, outside of proof they are destitute, is that they must furnish passports.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

In the pioneer days, whiskey was regarded by many as one of the chief necessities of life. The result was that it was one of the industries that thrived to a greater or lesser extent in the city and country.
It was, so historians of the city and county tell us, one commodity that would bring ready money. The liquid manufactured here was consumed for the most part in the district. Its manufacture at that time was, of course, considered not only legitimate but honorable.

The first distillery of which there is apparently any record was that of David White, located in the south central part of the town and east of the Neshannock creek. It was first operating about 1811 and continued to operate until 1814 or 1815.

In later times there was the Gen-kinger distillery on Bridge street.
The original building still stands and may be seen there. It is of brick construction but has been used for other purposes of many years.

One of the first important breweries was that of Trever and Dougel, which was located along the Shenango river near the old Black bridge, which is also only a memory.

Telling the Senate the Facts About Food Prices

A United States Senate committee has been looking into the prices of bread. The Senate wanted to know, in the interest of the public, whether the retail cost of a loaf had come down with the price of wheat. Not in all cases, the committee answers. It says, however, that:

"The chain stores are demonstrating their ability to bake and sell at a profit a pound loaf of bread at 5 cents, using the best materials and approved methods, and paying the prevailing scale of wages."

A & P cannot tell the story of all its foods better than the Senate committee tells it about bread.

Pittsburgh Mecca For Dry Leaders

Anti-Saloon League Leaders Will Open Session In Pittsburgh Tuesday

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 16.—Anti-Saloon League leaders, arriving here for two important dry meetings tomorrow noon and night, were practically unanimous today in declaring that the extent to which prohibition will be an issue in the 1932 presidential race depends largely upon the unity of thought and action achieved among dry sympathizers this year.

More than 1,000 Pittsburgh men and women will attend luncheon and dinner meetings tomorrow. Speakers will be Dr. William P. McGary, of Washington, aide to Dr. F. Scott McBride, head of the league; John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for this district; and Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington of Washington, general secretary of the world league against alcoholism.

Dr. McGary said that agitation for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment notwithstanding, he believed the "serious-minded men and women of the land are far more interested in getting back to prosperity than in the discussion as to liberty or license in the matter of liquor, wines or beer."

"The older generation," he said, "knows where it should stand. Our problem is to educate the 30,000,000 Americans of the younger generation who, never having seen a saloon, have no idea what conditions were before prohibition, and who will vote in 1932."

Mercer County Gets More Land

Many Vacant Plots Are Added To County's Holdings At Sales For Taxes

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 16.—Mercer county owns 250 lots in the county, located chiefly in Farrell and Sharon, that have been taken for taxes. Many of them are in locations that there is no hope of sale even for the taxes reports the county officials. At any tax sale of real estate failure to bid establishes county ownership which accounts for the proprietorship. At the tax sale of August last of seated lands 125 more plots were added by similar process. Many of the lots are said to have been sold by high pressure salesmen who pictured a Utopia that the owners later found was not worth paying taxes on.

MANY BECOME CITIZENS
Issuance of first papers to aliens at the office of Prothonotary Daisy T. Morse, totalled 227 in 1930 which is almost double the 1929 number adding 176.

The reason for the increase is accounted for in the fact that aliens have been informed to hold jobs they must become citizens. In 1928 the issuance totaled 161.

ORGANIZE CLUBS
Farm Agent W. S. Hager reports the organization of four club clubs in Mercer county with 60 boys and girls that are members. Under the rules the calves are raised by the juvenile owners, the best animal judged in competition paying a prize.

GET ROAD TAX INCREASE
Fourteen of Mercer County's 32 township which have petitioned Judge J. A. McLaughry have been granted increases in their road tax millage. Under the law they can tax to 10 mills, beyond that there must be a court order. The majority of them are taxing 15 mills, two of the number adding twelve.

Many farmers are complaining of the tax burdens at a time that prices for their products the lowest in 20 years.

PROBE RABIES SCARE
Further investigation of the mad dog scare in Findley township where an ewe bitten by a police dog died with what is said to be the worst case of rabies ever seen in the county is being made. Apportionment Plan Comes Up For Discussion

House Committee Will Meet Tuesday To Make Tentative Plans

TWO CONGRESSMEN MUST BE ELIMINATED

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 16.—The House committee on congressional apportionment will be called together for a meeting Tuesday by Representative Robert S. Spangler of York, the chairman.
At this meeting a tentative plan for dividing the state into 34 congressional districts as allowed by the 1930 census will be discussed. Chairman Spangler says.
"I want to disturb the present districts as little as possible," Mr. Spangler says. "It is my desire to have a reapportionment bill prepared for introduction at an early date."
"In a matter of this nature it will be impossible to please all persons involved. The loss of two congressmen by Pennsylvania naturally imposes upon the General Assembly a difficult task to perform in the matter of redistricting."
"I deferred calling my committee together earlier to await any possible action by the 71st Congress on an increase in membership of the lower house of Congress. Now that it has been definitely decided that Pennsylvania will have 34 instead of 36 congressmen, I want to get down to work on a reapportionment bill."

Many Suggestions
"Many plans for redistricting the state have been suggested. It is my thought that the committee can work out a tentative plan which will disturb the present districts as little as possible."
"In my work of preparing a reapportionment bill I plan to confer with Senator John J. McClure of Delaware, who is chairman of the state congressional apportionment committee."
"From a preliminary study of the question the Philadelphia and Allegheny districts will remain virtually unchanged. The reduction will come about by a shuffling around of the interior counties."

Three Show Losses
Three of the counties that have two members each in the House showed population losses by the last census. Clearfield dropped from approximately 103,000 to 86,700; Indiana from 80,900 to 75,300; and Somerset from 82,100 to 80,700. Whether any of these counties will lose a member Mr. Peeler says he is unable to forecast.

Outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, which showed gains of approximately 141,000 and 189,000 respectively, the largest increase in population was Delaware county. There the census last year showed 279,000 as against 173,000 in 1920. At present Delaware county has four members in the House.
Montgomery county, which now has five representatives for 199,300 residents under the 1920 census, increased its population to 265,900 during the decade.

Greer Refuses To Pay Mills

Says Council's Election Of Mills Is Not According To Law

City Controller Philip G. Greer today notified city council, which convened in the municipal building, that it would be impossible for him to approve the salary of C. S. Mills as a city fireman after March 9.

Mills was named a city fireman at a recent session of council. The appointment was recommended by Councilman Reeves, head of the department of fire.

At that time Solicitor White informed council that the election was contrary to law and asked that his advice be placed on the city records.

Later the city controller requested an opinion from the city solicitor and it was presented to Greer today.

As soon as Greer received the opinion he notified council that he would not approve pay for Mills after March 9.

He attached White's opinion to his communication.

Today Mr. Reeves took the attitude that the opinion should not be placed on file with Greer's letter.

He believed, he said, that there is a difference in legal opinion between the city solicitor and the city service commission.

Council, however, placed the opinion and letter on file.

After two firemen had been named recently a third was needed to fill the fire department quota.

Several lists of eligibles were presented and all were voted down until the name of Mr. Mills was presented. He was elected.

Solicitor White informed councilmen that in order to exhaust a list of three eligibles on any list would have to be accepted.

At that time Mr. Reeves and J. Lee McFate, commissioner of the civil service board, expressed a different opinion.

Council voted with Reeves, as he is the superintendent of the department of public safety.

It is not known what the next step will be.

Phenomenal Expansion Is Shown For Aviation By Survey Of Country

Prospects For Aviation In 1931 Are Very Bright, Survey Reveals

More People Than Ever Are Flying—Industry Becoming Stabilized

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1931, by International News Service)

Aviation in the United States is showing phenomenal expansion. The industry is emerging from the economic depression with colors flying and prospects for 1931 are exceedingly bright, according to a survey completed today by International News Service.

More people are flying than ever before. They are doing it casually—in almost as matter of fact manner as they do in taking a train. Air transport lines traverse the continent. And from leading cities—such as New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Atlanta, St. Louis, Columbus, Los Angeles, Miami, Kansas City, Dallas, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, Denver, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, Salt Lake City, Seattle and Albuquerque—regional air lines radiate in all directions.

Precautions Installed
"Safety first" precautions have instilled public faith in air travel. The major air lines have installed two-way radio communication between planes in flight and their ground bases. An extensive weather reporting service is employed to keep pilots well informed on conditions along their courses at all times.

The industry, after a period of over-expansion in some respects, has become stabilized. Readjustments during 1930 have put the business on a sound footing.

The year 1930 was a critical period for aviation, but the industry "made the grade" in admirable shape and the outlook is most encouraging.

International News Service's advances from its correspondents in all parts of the country are supported by the latest statistical information obtained by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, Inc., which also reports a phenomenal increase in air transport activity during 1930. During 1929 was a peak year for the transportation of mail, passengers and express by air, 1930 figures doubled and nearly tripled those of the previous year. Passengers, mail and express were being flown more than 102,000 miles every 24 hours, with more than one-third the distance being flown between dusk and dawn on lighted airways.

Phenomenal Increase
Aircraft under the American flag, including planes in civilian, commercial and government operation, flew more than 225,000,000 miles during 1930, an increase of more than 27,000,000 miles over the previous peak year, 1929, according to the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. Civil and commercial planes flew 164,793,612 miles during 1930 as compared with 149,579,451 miles in 1929. Government planes, including those of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard and Department of Commerce, flew 60,473,355 miles during 1930 as compared with 47,967,139 miles in 1929.

Harry Wilson Is Elected As Head
County C. E. Union

New Officers Are Installed At Annual Spring Rally
Of Union

At the annual spring rally of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union held in the First Congregational church, officers for the coming year elected and installed.

The officers elected are: President, Harry Wilson, Reformed Presbyterian church, this city; first vice president, Miss Elizabeth Reno, Wampum; second vice president, Miss Theda Hartwell, New Wilmington; recording secretary, Lloyd Bailey, New Bedford; corresponding secretary, Miss Geraldine Fry of the Central Presbyterian church and treasurer, Miss Theodora Pollock, Plaingrove.

The rally was an outstanding success and delegations were in attendance from the societies of Plaingrove, New Wilmington, Bessemer, Wampum, New Bedford and the churches of this city.

About a hundred participated in the dinner served in the dining room of the rally church at six o'clock by the young ladies of the church. The tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Pep songs and addresses featured the banquet period. Harry Wilson presided as toastmaster and Griff Thomas led the singing. Lawrence Montag of Butler, Western District Secretary for Pennsylvania and Charles P. Evans of Chicago, the guest speaker, entertained at the banquet with witty and mirth provoking addresses. Dr. C. B. Wingard of the Central Presbyterian church announced the names of the nominees for the various offices at the banquet session and all were elected by acclamation.

After the banquet, those in attendance adjourned to the main auditorium of the church for the balance of the evening program and at eight o'clock, the hour for starting the evening program, the auditorium was well filled. Rev. Byers of the Nesbannock Presbyterian church of New Wilmington had charge of the devotionals and had the audience sing several familiar hymns under the direction of Griff Thomas with Miss Anna Mae Smith as accompanist.

Roll call was then held with fifteen societies represented. The prize banner committee retired following the roll call and later announced that the society of the Central Presbyterian church had won the banner with having the largest number of members in attendance. Rev. Ross M. Haverfield of the Westfield Presbyterian church, made the presentation and John Atkinson Jr., president of the society, responded.

The new officers were then called forward and installed by Rev. A. I. Dickinson, of Plaingrove.

Miss Cecelia Hughes and brother Daniel Hughes, Jr., accompanied on the piano by Willie Hughes rendered most effectively the sacred duet "They Are Nailed to the Cross." The Young Men's Bible Class of the rally church rendered several selections under the direction of D. O. Davies. By special request, the class rendered one number in Welsh. After a very encouraging report from the various department superintendents, Mr. Montag introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Charles P. Evans of Chicago.

Mr. Evans, a man of striking personality held his audience from the start to the finish. One minute he had the people in a serious mood

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonard's prescription—HEM-RHOLD—to end itching, bleeding, protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-RHOLD succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. New Castle Drug Co., Eckerd's says HEM-RHOLD Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

Submarine Nautilus To Get Test For Polar Dash Today

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Mar. 16.—The scarlet and gray submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins hopes to cruise to the North Pole, will receive its first tests today. The undersea craft was scheduled to leave here for Brooklyn navy yard this afternoon, starting down the Delaware river with the tide.

Diving tests will be made and if the craft is found satisfactory the journey to New York will be continued. Wilkins and his crew of 20 planned to make the test trip.

New York may not be reached by the submarine until Tuesday or Wednesday, as the trip will be made in easy stages. The craft will be christened in Brooklyn on March 24. Later the submarine will be taken to Provincetown for further tests.

The Nautilus is one of the submarines ordered scrapped by the United States under the terms of the London naval treaty. The shipping board is permitting Wilkins to use it for the nominal payment of $1 a year with the understanding it shall ultimately be scrapped.

Gasoline Price Slashed Again

Another Cent Reduction For Gasoline Announced Today—Price Now 17 Cents

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 16.—Another one-cent reduction in the price of gasoline, the second cut within a week, went into effect here today.

Motor fuel is now down to 17 cents per gallon and high test gasoline down to 20 cents, including the state tax. Announcement of the reduction was made by the American, Atlantic, Gulf and Standard Oil companies.

Strenuous competition by independent companies, coupled with a drop in crude oil prices, was reported as the cause of the reduction.

Allegheny county, with 50,000 less automobiles than Philadelphia county, led all districts of the state in gasoline consumption during February. With reported sales of 10,154,583 gallons, Allegheny county led Philadelphia by 794,742 gallons.

The entire state showed a gain of 6,213,179 gallons over the same period last year.

Man Burned To Death In Blaze

Man Attempts To Save Society Money In Blaze And Is Trapped

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, PA., Mar. 16.—Because he tried to save $153 belonging to a society of which he was the treasurer, Maiko Churvan, 43, is dead today, and his body, charred and badly burned, lies in the ruins of the 16-room house in which he was trapped.

Churvan was the only victim of the blaze, from which a dozen other occupants of the house, members of three families, escaped, and which resulted in the total destruction of the large residence.

His son, 15, had accompanied his father into the flaming mansion when Churvan remembered that the funds and records of the Slavonia Society would be lost if he did not recover them.

Inside, the father found himself trapped in a room when a door slammed, while the boy made his way out of the building safely.

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.

Hot Mill Passers Win Second Half

Will Battle Specialty Team In Post Season Games

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 16.—After coming from behind in the initial period the ex-high Hot Mills passers managed to keep in front in every ensuing period, and won out the strong Office quintet 36-31, and thus claim the honors in the second round for the Shelby league in the auditorium Saturday night. This puts them in place to battle the Specialty, first half winners, for the league championship in several post-season games.

The game was unusually fast for one that had a championship at stake. Both teams revealed a fine burst of offensive power and could successfully change tactics when necessary. The usual good game was presented when these two teams were engaged.

Both teams were careful at the beginning of rivalries and adhered to defensive play. After a lengthy period Ursu rang up the first score from under the hoops for the Hot Mills cause. Blandine had accounted for a foul which was immediately followed by a two-point by Johnston and Leyda to place the Office in the lead. Freidhoff made the battle closer by also registering from the court. Then Johnston and Clyde tallied for their respective teams, which still gave the Office a one point advantage. A foul by Blandine and a bucket by Ursu tied matters up by an 8-8 score. Just before the close of the period the Office surged to the fore when Leyda accredited a foul, making the score 9-8 in their favor.

The Office started the scoring in the ensuing period when Reiley registered from under the basket. A foul by Ursu and a bucket by Clyde of the Hot Mills deadlocked the game at 11-11. Then the Hot Mills decided to control the issue as Freidhoff, Clyde, Fitzgerald and Ursu scored. Reiley on the next play accredited the Office with a foul. Clyde again came to the fore with a foul and a basket, giving the Hot Mills a commanding lead. This was narrowed when Elder of the Office sank the last field goal at the end of the period, making the score at half-time 22-14 for the Hot Mills. Fine passing and accuracy marked the Hot Mills play in this period. The game had early become hotly contested.

The Office had commenced a fast spurt that caused Blandine, Elder and Leyda to score from the court in rapid succession to make the score at 22-20 still for the Hot Mills. The latter had recognized the danger and called time out to muster up their forces in coordination again. Apparently it did them much good, for Freidhoff on the first play tallied after a clever play from under the basket. Elder retaliated for the Office, making the score 24-22 for the Hot Mills. The Hot Mills then again surged to the front with a fast scoring spree as Freidhoff, Chambers and Clyde registered in succession. Leyda sank a beautiful shot from mid-floor for the Office cause, but Clyde offset this by repeating and also receiving a foul which was counted up. On a fast play Leyda sent the ball through the hoops just as the quarter ended and the score being 33-26 in favor of the Hot Mills. The Office had received the best of the argument in this period, outscoring their opponents 12-11. This had been an exceedingly fast quarter with brilliant plays put to good cause by both quintets. Each had proved to be deadly in shooting.

The final stanza was exciting as the Office made a supreme effort to pull the game out of the fire in the final moments. The Hot Mills had been forced to resort to defensive tactics. The air had become tense when after Ursu's score from the court, Elder and Leyda repeated for the Office. Then two fouls by Elder and one by Clyde finished the scoring for the remainder of the contest.

A scene at the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp of the New York Yankees as Miss Myrtle Huggins, sister of the late Miller Huggins, unveiled a tablet to the memory of the former manager of the Yankees. The entire team and prominent baseball executives attended the ceremonies.

the final score being 36-31 for the Hot Mills.

Clyde and Ursu had played a brilliant game for the victors while Elder and Leyda were outstanding for the losers.

In the game preceding the Hot Mills-Office affair between the Specialty and the Mechanicals, the former getting out of a hard fought battle with a 27-22 win. The Mechanicals had taken an early lead of 9-4 in the initial period and added a point in the next, making the score 14-8 in their favor. In the ensuing period the champions realizing the danger they were in unleashed an offensive that gave them a 19-16 lead at the close of the third period. The Mechanicals were not able to revive again after being outscored in the previous period and were defeated for the second time by their opponents in the second round.

Boone, Sumner and Patterson were the outstanding performers for the winners, while the Mechanicals had depended more on their teamwork to bring victory had no individual star.

The Hot Mills and Specialty will battle sometime this week in the first game of the post series to decide the championship of the league and the winner of the cup. It will probably be a three-game series. These two teams are the natural enemies who have been at each others' throats since the beginning of the season. This is expected to be one of the hottest post-season series in the history of the league. The date of the first contest will be later announced.

THE BRITISH BEGAN TO GET THE WORST OF IT. GENERAL FRASER, BURGoyNE'S RIGHT-HAND MAN, WAS PICKED OFF BY AN AMERICAN SHARPSHOOTER. THEN THE REDCOATS FELL BACK TO THEIR LINE OF EARTHWORKS, WHERE THEY DEFIED ALL ATTEMPTS TO DISLODGE THEM.

Duquesne Tops New Castle High, 20-17

NEW CASTLE LOSES IN FINAL MINUTES OF THRILLING GAME

Close To 4,000 See Coach Bridenbaugh Machine Receive First Setback Of Season; Ludwig Ostrosky Stars As Local Quintet Is Eliminated From W. P. I. A. L. Tourney; Al Servick Proves Outstanding Star For Duquesne; Game Is One Of Best Played In Tourney; New Castle Plays Stellar Ball.

Defeat fell upon the New Castle high school basketball team for the first time this season on Saturday night on the Pitt University floor when the Coach Bridenbaugh quintet was defeated by Duquesne high 20-17 in the semi-final round of the W. P. I. A. L. tournament. The contest which proved to be one of the best played to date in the tourney was witnessed by approximately 4,000 followers of both aggregations. New Castle battled the Dukes to even terms until the last few minutes when the Steelers sank in an avalanche of shots that turned the Lawrence Countians down for the first time in 19 games.

Thrilling Game
The tilt was full of thrill and had the big crowd all pepped up through out the game. New Castle playing as underdogs surprised the Dukes by flashing an attack that had the Duquesne quintet off of its feet for three quarters and is believed that a tough break in the fourth count lost the contest for the well coached Bridenbaugh proteges.

As the final period got underway Ludwig Ostrosky playing his first game in the tournament as a substitute for New Castle set the New Castle stands wild when he sank a beautiful shot from near mid-court to put the Lawrence Countians on top 14-13. Al Servick, Duquesne forward followed up soon with a field goal from the foul line to give his team a one point lead again. Then the tough break which probably cost New Castle the game arrived.

During a scrimmage under the Duquesne basket one of the officials mistakenly called a foul on Andy Lasky. This foul totaled four for New Castle's pivot man, who demonstrated in the contest Saturday night that he deserves some consideration when the critics pick their all star teams. With Lasky out of the game it was evident that New Castle's chance of victory were gone. Lasky did not commit the foul which was called on him. He was not near the scene of the scrimmage and through some misapprehension of the officials in the excitement of things thought that Lasky had committed the foul which put him out of the game.

Grabs Lead
The New Castle passers took a four point lead at the start of the game before Duquesne was able to figure in the scoring column. Jimmy Shaffer sent his team in the lead when he sank a pretty one from the center of the spacious Pitt floor to give New Castle a 2-0 lead. John Uram was fouled and made the try good. Andy Lasky was given a free toss but failed to make it count. John Uram made good one of two fouls to give the Lawrence County machine a 4 point lead. After Durik missed a foul for Duquesne, Karpovich started the scoring for Duquesne when he rang in two fouls.

Durik came back with another foul for the Dukes to cut New Castle's lead to one point at 4-3, followed by Servick who caged the Steelers first field goal from near the foul line. Marvin replaced Reiber for New Castle at guard. Alexandrovich gave Duquesne a 6-4 lead when he caged a foul as the first quarter ended.

It wasn't long in the second quarter until New Castle caught up to Duquesne and then took a small lead. J. Uram and Shaffer each made good one foul try to deadlock matters at 6-6. Lasky sneaked a field goal under the basket to place the Red and Black clad boys in the lead. He was fouled by Alexandrovich on the same play but failed to annex the foul.

Karpovich sank his only field goal of the game at this time from the side of the floor to tie the score. John Uram was ruled out of the game on the four personal foul rule on the next play when he fouled Servick. Ludwig Ostrosky replaced him at forward for New Castle. Ostrosky was fouled on two successive plays and made the free throws count to give New Castle a 10-8 lead as the half ended. Alexandrovich missed two fouls prior to the sounding of the half gun. Up to this time the New Castle team demonstrated that it was the best team on the floor and appeared the if New Castle machine continues the stride which it had set in the first half, it would meet Scott high in the finals of the tourney.

Second Half
After Marvin missed a foul for New Castle at the start of the third period Servick made his free toss count. Shaffer was awarded a foul and he failed to connect. Karpovich failed to register a foul on the next play. Ostrosky gave the New Castle team a three point advantage when he rang his first goal of the game from the foul line. The score was 12-9. Zeleznik made good one of two fouls for the Dukes. Servick cut New Castle's lead to one point when he tallied on one out of two fouls.

Muir replaced Alexandrovich for Duquesne at this interval. On the next play Karpovich fouled Lasky and was taken out of the game on the four personal foul rule. Alexandrovich again took the court in place of Karpovich for the Steelers. Lasky failed to score on the foul. Alexandrovich sank in a beautiful shot from the center of the court to give the Duquesne representatives a 13-12 lead as the third period came to a conclusion.

With the opening of the fourth quarter Ludwig Ostrosky added more spirit to his team mates when he sent the spheroid through the hoops from near mid-floor to give New Castle a temporary 14-13 lead. Hardly had the players lined up for defense when Duquesne grabbed a one lead again when Servick tallied from the foul line to give the Dukes a 15-14 lead. On the next play Lasky was fouled on the foul line. The game concluded soon after the shooting of the foul with Duquesne the winner 20-17.

The New Castle team, although patched up played a swell brand of ball throughout. If breaks mean anything then New Castle took the worst of it. To start with, Lester Reiber who in the two previous games in the tourney played sensational ball with New Castle was replaced on Saturday.

Down in Dixie Base Ball Notes

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 16.—It doesn't take a master mind or a big league scout to see that what the St. Louis Cardinals need to insure their hopes for a fourth National league flag is additional pitching talent.

The Cards have three fine ml. men in J. Haines, Burleigh Grimes and Bill Hallahan—but they aren't enough.

Out 'de of a weakness at third base the Cardinals need spend little worry over their infield, their catching staff and the outfield. The champion Red Birds are well fortified with capable talent in all these other departments.

Last season it was brilliant hurling that carried the Cards through Manager Gabby Street is the first to insist upon that.

"Grimes, Haines and Hallahan are pretty sure of giving us 50 wins," says Gabby, "but to take the 1931 flag we'll have to get almost as many victories from the rest of the staff. Have we got enough mound talent?—that's my biggest problem."

Of course, Sylvester Johnson and Flint Rhem, vets, may come through in fine style, which would make Gabby about the happiest pilot going.

And then there is young Paul Derringer, a rookie, of whom much is expected. Another mound possibility is Dizzy Dean, the gabby youngster who not only talks a swell ball game, but acquitted himself in grand style in the minors.

Important Bouts Carded This Week

Many Important Scraps Will Be Fought In All Parts Of Country

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—Two more fearless boxing champions who date on over-the-weight matches are scheduled to fight this week without risking their titles.

Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion, will appear in a ten-round bout against Joe Barbovic, of Birmingham, N. Y., at Scranton, Pa., on Thursday if his manager can locate him in his night club haunts and get him aboard a Scranton-bound train.

Barbovic normally weighs around 167 and the chief feature of interest in this bout will be whether he can devour enough cabbage and malted milks to weight in over the 175-pound limit.

The British middleweight champion Len Harvey, will be getting his last chance on Friday, against Ben Jebby. If he fails against Jebby, John Bull's boy will be through as an attraction here. And Harvey will have to be at his best, for Jebby is one of the best of the second flight of middleweight contenders, such as they are. He has lost only three fights, which include a defeat by Dundee.

Le. Massey, the Philadelphia Italian who can beat almost any featherweight in the business, is expected to feel like it meets Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute veteran in a ten-rounder at Philadelphia tonight.

Young Corbett, hailed on the Pacific coast as the uncrowned king of the welters, and Paul Pitrome meet in a ten-round bout at San Francisco on Friday.

Ebbe Hunt, the Ponca City, Okla., heavyweight who beat Schaaf, Risko and Braddock last year, will work on O. Christner, the bouncing rubber puddler from Akron, in a ten-rounder at Wichita, Kans., tonight.

Koppel Stars Top Wampum Boy Scouts

The Koppel Stars downed the Wampum Boy Scouts in a fast game 33 to 27 played at the Wampum floor. The game was interesting throughout the four periods. R. Ferrucci and J. Downey were the stars of the game for Wampum, while Phillips and Butler played the best for Koppel.

The summary:

Duquesne Here Tuesday Night

St. Mary's Cards Duquesne University Floor Team For Tuesday Night

The Duquesne University basketball team will be the attraction at the St. Mary's auditorium on Tuesday night, with the fast St. Mary's A. A. A. quintet opposing them. The game is carded for 8:15 o'clock. A record breaking crowd is looked for according to Business Manager Jokey Travers.

The Dukes of the Bluff on their appearance here earlier in the year handed the Saints a defeat by a small margin. The locals are anxious to atone for this setback. In fact it was the first game of the season for the Saints and they had nearly gotten their bearings. So far this year the team coached by Father Nee, has had a remarkable record, beating numerous of the best teams in this district. The locals feel that they will give the Davies coached machine a much better game tomorrow night. Alexander is back in the St. Mary's lineup adding a lot of punch to the team.

The Pittsburghers are bringing their strongest lineup to New Castle, including the famed "Ganzy" Benedict and Bud Stephens, and when this pair go into action the fur is sure to fly. Benedict is perhaps one of the greatest basketball players in this district. He has been a tower of strength to the Dukes for the past four years. He is through this year and the Dukes are mighty sorry. Tuesday may be his final game with the Davies team, and he is sure to be "hot".

Travers has arranged for a fine party for the Dukes following the game.

Manager Bill McKechnie Hopes To Have Tribe Up Near Top Of Race

Rookies Look Very Good—Harold Haid, New Castle Boy Is With Braves

By AL COUGHLIN
International News Service Special Correspondent.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 16.—The Boston Braves have perhaps their greatest baseball team in ten years and are almost certain to gain a place in the first division in the scramble for the National league pennant this season.

The Boston club has a great array of clouters and it now looks as though the tribe has developed what looks like a potential "murderer" row.

Spend $100,000.

The Braves spent $100,000 for three new fielders who seem to have strengthened the team considerably. Wesley Schlumberich was bought from Los Angeles and Charlie Wilson was purchased from Rochester along with Robert "Red" Worthington.

It is expected that Bill McKechnie, the Braves boss, will use Schlumberich at left field, Worthington at right field and Walter Berger at center.

With these heavy hitters along with Al Bohl, the big catcher, who was with Pittsburgh last year, Earl Sheely and Lance Richbourg, the club is sure to get some where.

Don Laenhardt, a rookie from Chicago, and "Bucky" Walters, former New England league star, are smart infielders.

There are several recruit pitchers who look good. They are Bill McKechnie, former University of Michigan star; Harold Gans of Brooklyn, Regis Leheny of Pittsburgh, Mike DeLaney of Chicago and Bob Brown of Boston.

Rookies Look Good.

Manager McKechnie is almost sure to keep two of these hurlers and along with the veterans, Bruce Cunningham, Ed Brandt, Ben Cantwell, Fred Frankhouse, Harry Seibold, Willie Sherdel, Tom Zachary and Harold Haid, a new speed ball king from California, who will join the team in Boston, Bill McKechnie will have a pitching staff as good as any of the leading teams in the league.

Al Spolner, Bill Cronin and Al Bohl are a trio of fine receivers who are doing well in training. Roy Luebbe is showing to good advantage behind the plate.

"Rabbit" Maranville will work at Shortstop. Wilson, Walters and Buster Chatham will fight for the job at third base while Freddy Maguire, Bill Drennon, Laenhardt Sheely and Johnny Neun are the candidates for the first and second base positions.

The Braves never looked better at this stage of the training grid with a big man in almost every position. If looks mean anything the Boston team will be up there with the leaders this season.

HORSES STILL RUN AWAY
(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, Pa., Mar. 16.—Russell Carter can testify that not only is transportation still carried on by horses, but that occasionally the almost forgotten "run-away" act is still performed. Carter sustained the loss of his left forefinger when a runaway mule team dragged him for several yards with his hands entangled in the reins before he could extricate himself.

EX-CHAMPS—HOW MANY CAN YOU IDENTIFY HERE?

Three leaders in the American continue at the same relative strength as last season.

Eight to one on the Cleveland Indians looks like awfully long odds on that young, aggressive club.

The odds layers regard the Brooklyn Robins, St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs as even risks in the National league flag fight. The trio are figured five-two to win, even money second and two-five for third.

Strangely enough, the New York Giants, considered by the handicapper less likely to win (odds are six-two) or to finish third (odds are one-two) are also listed even money for second. Pittsburgh's Pirates are in the book at four to one.

Longest odds against a club winning a pennant are those placed on the Boston Red Sox, figured 200 to one. The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns in the American league and the Cincinnati Reds in the National are all listed at 100 to one. These four clubs are considered without a ghost of a show to win.

The long-shot clubs figured to have at least a remote chance are the Detroit Tigers in the American (20-1), Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Braves (50-1) in the National.

Seven to 10 are pretty short odds. But last year they were still shorter, as far as the A's were concerned. If memory serves, the Mackmen were something like six to 10 favorites.

How the handicappers reach their mathematical conclusions is a dark mystery to this department. But the boys always come through with their tabulations along about the Ideas of ever March. Just another sign of spring, along with income tax blanks.

It is interesting to note that the Washington Senators, second choice of the handicappers, rank a very bad No. Two in the odds tables. Walter Johnson's men are listed as three to one risks with the New York Yankees close at four to one.

A water won on the A's would, according to the quoted odds, net 70 per cent profit while like wagers on the Senators and Yanks, in event of victory by those clubs, would net 300 per cent and 400 per cent, respectively.

Some difference, but then, during the last two seasons the A's were quite a different ball club than either the Senators or the Yankees. Incidentally, the handicaps indicate the odds layers figure the Washington Senators, second choice of the handicappers, rank a very bad No. Two in the odds tables. Walter Johnson's men are listed as three to one risks with the New York Yankees close at four to one.

A water won on the A's would, according to the quoted odds, net 70 per cent profit while like wagers on the Senators and Yanks, in event of victory by those clubs, would net 300 per cent and 400 per cent, respectively.

State Basketball Tourney Moves Into Final Stretch

moved from the game shortly after the start of the initial quarter due to a "charley horse." The Lawrence County team functioned well but not as well as it could had Reiber been in the tilt. The next bad break occurred in the second quarter when John Uram was removed from the game through four personal foul rule. Lasky's absence from the New Castle lineup in the final minutes of the four quarter was the deciding break for Duquesne.

Lasky played one of his best games of the season. He took the tip off at center nearly everytime. He also tallied one field goal. Ludwig Ostrosky who replaced John Uram was the surprise of the evening. Playing his first game in the tournament he scored two field goals and two fouls to lead the New Castle team.

Quenesne, although it defeated New Castle, did not look any too impressive. Many believe that the New Castle team at its best could defeat Duquesne. Twenty fouls were called on New Castle which resulted in two New Castle regulars being removed from the game. Duquesne was charged with 15.

Al Service was the leading point scorer for Duquesne. This had sent three field goals and 2 fouls. The defeat eliminated New Castle from the schoolboy tourney. The victory for Duquesne was the fourth in five years over New Castle. Last season the same situation arose with the Dukes eliminating New Castle in the semi-finals with a 22-14 score.

The summary of the game follows:

New Castle 17 Duquesne 20
J. Uram F..... Service
Shaffer F..... Zelenik
Lasky F..... Karpovich

Reiber G..... Durik
Score by periods:

Farrell High Defeats Oil City 34-23 To Cop District No. 10 Honors

High School Teams Enter One Of Most Strenuous Weeks Of Competition

(International News Service)

Pennsylvania's high school basketball teams today entered one of the most strenuous weeks of competition as the annual tournament of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association moved into the final stretch that will end with the crowning of a state champion.

Williamsport district No. 4 champion, advanced into the regional competition by narrowly defeating Steelton, the district No. 3 winner with a 28-25 score at Carlisle Saturday.

The game was forced into a three-minute extra period in which Williamsport annexed four points while the opponents were held to a single additional point. Harrison, the Williamsport star, was effectively stopped by the Steelton basketballers, but Panton and Brown rallied to the defense and copped the game.

Williamsport can now spend two weeks prepping for its opponent, scheduled to emerge from the competition in districts Nos. 1 and 2. In the first district Allentown, Lower Merion and Mahanoy City carried off the blue ribbons and now must fight it out between themselves. Allentown and Lower Merion will meet at the tipoff in Easton Tuesday night and to Mahanoy City will go the stiff task of meeting the survivor of this grueling match.

In the next district Forest City and Susquehanna are paired for tonight with Scranton, Central, Nanticoke and Edwinstown still remaining in the running.

In the western section of the state, three of the six district winners have already been determined and the others will be crowned before the week ends.

Farrell won the district No. 10 honors Saturday by beating Oil City 34-23, and now must meet DuBois, district No. 9 winner by virtue of its win of 32-16 from Sheffield.

Holidaysburg and Ebensburg will fight for the district No. 5 title tonight. The district No. 5 series begins tonight also with Berlin scheduled to meet Rockwood. Tomorrow, Windber and Boswell will clash with the district championship to be determined Wednesday. The winner in the Wednesday game will then be paired with the winner of the Holidaysburg-Ebensburg setto.

George Godfrey Latest Athlete To Try Grappling Business

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist-Writer

The latest recruit from another sport to the ranks of Grapple and Grunt is none other than our acquaintance, one George Godfrey, erstwhile Black Shadow of pugilism.

Godfrey was getting along in years and seemed pretty close to the end of his ring career when he decided to give wrestling a try. If he succeeds in his new enterprise the huge negro may be the cause of more battered heavyweights trying the mat sport.

Wrestling is peculiar in that it is the one sport in which it doesn't seem to matter how old one becomes—provided the athlete has not passed his sixtieth birthday. When ball players, boxers, gridironers, tennis and golf players have reached an age where they contemplate retirement, the average grappler is just getting started. Middle age is the prime of athletic life for wrestlers if the careers of most of the really great grapplers can be taken as a criterion.

Vivian Gordon's Letters Revealed

Three Letters Allegedly Written By Vivian Gordon Made Public In England

EXPRESSES FEAR FOR HER LIFE

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 16.—Three letters alleged to have been written by Vivian Gordon, slain Broadway beauty, in which she expressed the fear of being "bumped off" and declared her "enemy" was already "fixing an alibi" were revealed here today following their publication by the Glasgow Sunday post.

The letters were submitted to the newspaper by George Fellows, a Britisher who spent many years in the United States as a "crime investigator," who claims he received them from Miss Gordon a short while before she met her death.

The last of the three letters was dated February 7, only a few weeks before the auburn-haired "vice racketeer" was found strangled in Van Cortlandt park, New York.

"I just know—(an initial)—will resort to anything now," the third letter read at one part.

"I got a tip he would bump me off and that he was fixing an alibi."

The editor of the Glasgow Post expressed the conviction that the letters were authentic.

TEACHER TACKLES COUGH

Doesn't Miss a Day of School

"Right before exams I caught a cough. I just hated to stay home and give my class to a substitute. Another teacher recommended Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. When I got home I started to tackle my cough with the syrup. In just a few minutes and I was breathing easier, my throat felt better, I was coughing less. That very night I got well. Went back to school next day," Mrs. L. Stone, 915 West End Avenue, New York.

Hitler's Death Brigade

Far removed from the pomp that was the Imperial Army's in the pre-war days in Germany, this company of Germany's National Socialists (Nazis) in a review before the castle at Braunschweig, Prussia, marched before Adolf Hitler, their leader (inset). The review was characterized by the exchanging of the Fascist salute (as above) as each unit passed before the reviewing group.

Thrills and Risks Aplenty

Careful riding was necessary in this daring feat of horsemanship and no less daring feat of the men who formed the human circle as one of the exhibits during the recent society circus at Fort Myer, Va. A slight stumble would prove fatal to the "human" hurdle.

They Have a Baby Sister, Now

The little Japanese Princesses, Teru (in arms) and Taku (foreground) are just as excited as little American girls would be over the advent of a new baby in their home. Pictured here on their return to Tokyo from the Imperial Winter Palace, the royal youngsters are enroute to see their mother, the Empress of Japan, who recently gave birth to another daughter.

Chief Warns Auto Speeders That They Will All Be Fined

Spring Seems To Have Effect—Many Drivers With Speed Bug

Chief of Police C. C. Horner today warned the motorists of the district that speeding is entirely taboo in this city and that any person caught speeding in the future need not try to alibi that they did not know that they were driving too fast and contrary to the regulations of the city and state.

Complaints have become so general concerning the speed at which many motorists are now traveling on Wilmington avenue, Highland avenue, East Washington street and in fact on many streets of the city that drastic action will be taken to put a stop to the nuisance.

According to the chief, the fine spring weather of the past week seems to have been the incentive for this speeding and he advises the motorists to take a spring tonic that will relieve them of this undesirable condition before they pay out some speeding fines.

A well known jurist says that this country should do away with alimony. That's silly; A woman has to have some incentive for getting married

Reeves Asks For Police Opinion

Wants To Know Status Of Police Who Have Reached Retirement Age

Councilman Clayton Reeves today during council's session at the city hall requested City Solicitor Robert White to furnish him with an opinion relative to the keeping of policemen who have reached 70 or more years of age on the police force payroll.

He said that the city has a valid pension ordinance which calls for the retirement of police when they reach 70 years of age.

"Weren't we to take care of that as soon as we got at the pensions?" asked Councilman Louis Genkinger.

"We're going to find out about the payroll" replied Reeves.

"Are there any firemen 70 years or more?" Burns asked.

"No, Sir" replied Reeves.

The Reeves motion was seconded by Genkinger and voted for by the balance of the councilmen.

MEN FINED AFTER CAUGHT SPEEDING

W. M. Shoemaker was driving the car of R. H. Tucker at a high rate of speed in the Wilmington avenue district over the week-end when apprehended by Officer Ray Richards. While the car was being chased by the officer John Green, colored, who was in the car threw out a bottle, which was destroyed with its contents. Green was fined $10 on a disorderly conduct charge and Shoemaker fined $10 for speeding. The latter was then turned over to the state highway patrol as he was found to be driving without a 1931 driver's license.

Marthaler's Talk At Rotary Enjoyed

Rotarians of the city today heard "Refined Oil Products" discussed when Raymond J. Marthaler, manager of the Pennzoll company branch here, a Rotarian himself, gave a classification talk immediately following the club's weekly luncheon.

Guests of the membership today were Dr. Hugh Hart and A. A. Taylor, New Wilmington residents.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE LOCATED BY POLICE

Automobile of George Gilkey was reported Sunday evening about 11:50 o'clock by Paul Steel as having been stolen from South Mercer street where it had been parked. It was located today by Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch in the old Wolf Swamp dump apparently near the worst of wear. Seventy-five dollars worth of valuable mechanics' tools were also found intact in the machine, which has been turned over to the owner

Trailer Truck Breaks Off Three Poles This Morning

Accident Occurs On The Youngstown Hill Early This Morning

Three telephone poles along the cartway on State street hill were broken off this morning, when a trailer truck attached to the heavy truck of the J. C. Kenny Company, swung around as the truck and trailer were coming down the hill and sideswiped the poles.

Charles C. Lydick was the driver of the truck and reported to the police that he was driving the truck and trailer down the hill and there was some snow on the cartway. He had the truck in low gear and was proceeding cautiously.

About the middle of the hill the truck began to swing about and in an effort to gain speed and straighten out the trailer, Lydick put his machine in second gear. It was near the curve at the bottom of the hill that the trailer swung to one side knocking over the three poles.

Nervousness, Rheumatism Constipation; Ended Says New Wilmington Man

Nu-Erb Given Credit For Bringing First Real Relief In Many Years

"Because Nu-Erb has given me such wonderful relief from health troubles from which I suffered for the past thirty years, I feel it my duty to tell others about this splendid medicine," said Mr. George W. Shaffer, R. D. No. 2, New Wilmington, Pa., and who for many years was an employee of the Carnegie Steel Mill, in a recent interview.

"I have suffered agonies with rheumatic pains through my limbs, joints and muscles. At times they would become so stiff, sore and swollen that I could scarcely attend to my work. I was a chronic victim to constipation and my entire system became rundown so that I couldn't sleep nights and I felt tired and worn out."

"I began using Nu-Erb soon after it was introduced in New Castle and three bottles of this medicine have done more for me than all the other medicines put together. The rheumatic pains have been relieved for the first time, and my joints and muscles are more limber than they have been for years. I sleep better at night. I have a good appetite and I am feeling stronger and better in every way."

Let this amazing Nu-Erb help you back to health and strength. Its pure herbal juices tone and regulate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and give new strength and energy in a run-down system.

Eckerd's Cut Rate Store, is the only place in New Castle where Nu-Erb may be purchased. Go see the Nu-Erb man now located there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.
